

The MC70 Charging Holster allows devices to run up to three times longer, resulting in less downtime and increased productivity.

Ryzex understands that your data collection resources are only as strong as the weakest battery. Fading power and outages can interrupt workflow, frustrate team members and create downtime. Now there's a convenient new way to add more battery life to your devices.

Ryzex introduces the innovative new Honeywell[®] MC70 Charging Holster. With its ergonomic design and revolutionary capabilities, you can increase battery capacity up to three times longer while it's clipped to your belt. The Holster continuously charges the internal battery of the MC70 while it's plugged in, so you can enjoy strong battery life throughout your entire shift.

UNLIKE ANY OTHER CHARGER

The MC70 Charging Holster is a whole new way to add power to your operation. Designed for the Symbol[®] MC70 data collection terminal, the Holster offers you the following benefits:

- Lasts up to 3x longer. The Holster continuously charges Symbol[®] MC70's internal battery so it stays powered longer, helping to improve productivity.
- Reduces costs and clutter. The all-in-one design of the Holster eliminates the need for separate chargers. Simply charge the Holster with its own power cord (included).
- Clearly indicates status. LED lights on the Holster tell you whether it's charging the internal device battery, charging its own battery, or fully charged.
- Works the way you do. The Holster's ergonomic shape makes it easy to wear and easy to grip. Plus, its facedown design protects the screen.
