

It's important that your equipment provide a maximum return in efficiency and value. That's why Ryzex collaborates with a wide range of application partners to give you a one-stop resource.

Your single source for mobile computing solutions.

Today's industrial handheld terminals are powerful mobile computers with additional built-in features such as barcode scanners, GPS units, cameras, and RFID. Using wireless networks, mobile workers can easily connect to corporate networks in order to perform two-way data transfers, information look-ups, work order changes, email, and other mission critical tasks. These complete mobility solutions deliver high value through cost reduction, efficiency improvements, increased service levels, loss prevention and increased sales.

As a third party provider, Ryzex has the ability to match unique software and hardware providers to provide custom solutions. We can save you time and money by researching the best total solution to fit your particular need. By offering our knowledge and expertise, we can dramatically shorten your research and decision time required to choose a mobile data collection solution.

Ryzex Mobile Solutions address mobile worker needs across many applications:

- Field Service Automation: when you depend on the wireless work order
- Delivery and Fleet Applications: increase driver productivity and minimize costs
- Asset Tracking: maintain control of your mission critical devices
- Inspections: comply with security, safety and maintenance inspections
- Route Accounting / Direct Store Delivery: increase efficiency in the field
- Customized Solutions: mobile solutions designed just for you
